PULL SIZE AGAIN.

A supply of paper having come to hand yesterday afternoon, we are enabled to present the RECORD this morning on a full sheet. The necessity for reducing the size to half a sheet was one that could not be overcome, and we are sure that our patrons will take a generous view of the case.

For the delivery of our stock of paper yesterday we are under many obligations to Mr. King, who, hearing that it was at Patterson, went out there and superintended its shipment. We also return thanks to Travis & Co. and to their agent, Mr. Minsbull, for their efficient aid in bringing the paper through by

CHIEF JUSTICE.

Our dispatches this merning announce that President Grant has withdrawn the nomination of Williams as Chief Justice of the Supreme Court. We transfer from our telegraphic column the letter of Williams requesting the President to withdraw his nomination:

dent to withdraw his nomination:

WARHINGTON, Jan. 7, 1874.

To President Grant — Sir. You were kind enough, without my solicitation, or any knowledge on my part that you contemplated such a thing, to monitate me for Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of the United States. Since that time the flood-gates of calumny in all directions have been opened upon me. My abilities have been objected upon me. My abilities have been disparaged and my integrity brought in question, and it seems to me that a public opinion, adverse to my appointment, has been reached which might hereafter cunbarrass your administration, and perhaps impair my usefulness upon the bench, and with the perfect consciousness that I have performed with clear bands and upright purpose all the duties of the various public offices to which I have been called, and trusting to time to adjust public offices to which I have been called, and trusting to time to adjust public offices to which I have been called, and trusting to time to adjust public offices to which I have been called, and trusting to time to adjust public offices to which I have been called, and trusting to time to adjust public opinion, when better informed, for my vindication. I respectfully ask you to withdraw my nomination.

Chief Justice Chase died on the 7th of May kind An Embezzler and a Forger Arrested.

Chief Justice Chase died on the 7th of May and after a lapse of some weeks Bosco Conkling was tendered the appointment, but after a broadside from both the bar and the press of the country, Conkling declined the spcointment. Shortly after the meeting of Con-Williams, of Oregon, present Attorney General of the United States, was sent to the Senate, but instead of being referred to the Judiciary Committee as a mere formal act preceding the con- Tuesday. The officers of the mail comhad failed to recommend confirmation when Congress adjourned for the holidays. In the meantime the opposition to Mr. Williams sathered strength and indeed, it was asserted n many quarters that a rejection was inevitable. Finally, to avoid such a catastrophe, Williams was an improvement on nkling; it is now hoped that the President | ring here. will nominate one of the many eminent gentle men who have been named, either of whom would secure confirmation of the Senate and command the respect of the bar and the public. ship can be stated in a few lines: John Jay appointed September 26, 1780; resigned April 19, 1794. John Rutledge, appointed July 1, 1795, presided at the August Term, 'M, and was rejected December 10, 1705. Wm. Cushing, Associate Justice, was appointed January 26, 1796. pointed and confirmed March 4, 1796, and presided at the August Term, 1799; proceeded to France in November, 1799, and resigned as Chief Justice. The appointment was tendered to John Jay, but he declined. John Marshall, appointed January 31, 1801; died in office, 1835. Roger B. Taney, appointed March 15, 1836; died in office Salmon P. Chase, appointed in 1864; died in office, May 7, 1873.

In a rocent issue of the Shreveport (La.) Thines some interesting facts are given concerning the yellow fever ravages which came so near depopulating that sity during the fall. The population of Shreveport is about 19,000 in the Suramer and 14,000 in the Winter. According to Dr. E. P. Tenner, who has collected statistics for the national government, the population, Just previous to the appearance of the fever, was about 2,000 during the prevalence of the disease it fell to 4,500. The Times claims that the latter estimate is too great by at least 300, and says that of the 4,000 people this would show, fully 1,500 were negroes. The first notable cases of yellow fever were discovered aug. 20. Between that diste and Nov. 13, 759 persons, of whom 150 were negroes, died of the disease. The prevalence of the disease, it is said, is directly traced to official neglect of duty. During the Summer months the streets of Shraveport were full of recking filth and in the alleys and out-of-the-way places even as far hack as last January, were masses of garbage, rank and foul from decay. Complaints from the people and warnings from the press, although loud and frequent, failed to stir the officials from their criminal negligence, and the rotten garbage and stagmant filth, and dead animals lay in the gutters invitting death to the harvest which was out of her own house into a vacant lot cries attracted the attention of two citizens-Judge Darwin and Howard Crit-City Hall that they were compelled to SEVERAL days ago a row occurred among the negroes employed by the owner of a turpentine orchard near Montrose, Alabama, and resulted in the killing of five negro near. It appears that two of the negroes got into a dispute, and one shot the other dead. A brother of the feecessed them can up to him who had fired the fital shot, and split his head open with an axe. A friend or a relative of the last party slain then killed the second murderer with an axe, and in a few seconds he was rendered a corpse by the same deadly weapon in the hands of a fifth negro. Before the body of the fourth negro was cold the fifth had his neck split open and was lying dead upon the party he had just killed.

This mill, owned by Messra. Jones & Colorado, from same port, is due next Hayward, is one of the finest in the world. It is situated, it will be remembered, on the Carson river, a short disstance east of Empire City. It has 56 stamps, and is run by water power, its full working capacity being 160 tons per day. It is supplied with ore entirely from the Crown Point mine. During the year 1873 the quantity of ore crushed at this mill amounted to 34,500 tons. The this mill amounted to 34,500 tons. The cost of labor, including construction, was $59,231. The number of cords of wood used was 971; quicksilver naed, 56,732 pounds, at a cost of $54,215;cost of castings, $44,796; sulphate of copper used, 42,420 pounds; miscellaneous expenses, $23,000; amount of bullion produced, 64,200 pounds. It had been their practice before lighting the fuse to ring down the cage, five bells being sounded to attract the attention of the engineer, the sixth being the signal to lower the cage. For some reason the bell emitted no sound when the cord was jerked for the sixth time. The men had lit the fuse and were momentarily expecting the
